CHS'ers trot into fall

Bicycling, skating, bowling, hiking, skiing and horseback riding, as different as they appear to be all have a common center . . . they are each hobbies. Hobbies are the part of our lives which make up for frustrations, disappointments, etc.

There is nothing like a ride through colorful autumn woods. Imagine seeing the leaves in orange, gold and brown by horseback . . . Taking in the crisp fall air as you go . . . Calumet students enjoy this exhilarating experience while riding through Hobart.

Peanuts, apes are '77 vogue

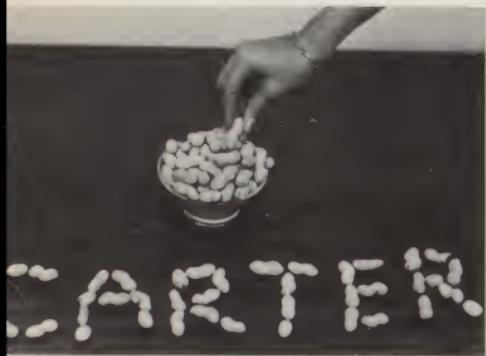

The spectrum of fads and fashions broadened at CHS during the past year. From short dresses to longer hem lengths, from platforms to boots, from pants to gauchos, these are perfect examples of the ever changing trends in the world of fashion.

Although quite a few items were considered to be "in" in 1977, nothing was really "out." Some trends in wearing apparel went back to styles popular in other eras.

An increase in sensationalism was evident during the past year. In fact, it might have been termed at the epidemic stage.

Everywhere one glanced one saw evidence of sensationalism. Trends toward greater sensationalism were obvious in both television and motion pictures. Viewers flocked to the theaters to see the "Caesar" of apes, "King Kong," and the extremely sensational film "The Omen." This "flick" was photographically designed to bombard the viewers' senses.

The television networks continued to grind out low quality action series like "Starsky and Hutch." However, one network, NBC, did find time to produce a three and one-half hour special on "Violence in America."

Pumpkins, goblins Tricks and treats Comprise Halloween

Tradition proved to be another aspect of the CHS spectrum in 1977.

Holiday celebrations, the most "Traditional of traditions," included Halloween. A little past the "trick-or-treat stage," CHS students found themselves "still young at heart" enough to participate in pumpkin carving and visitations to local "haunted houses".

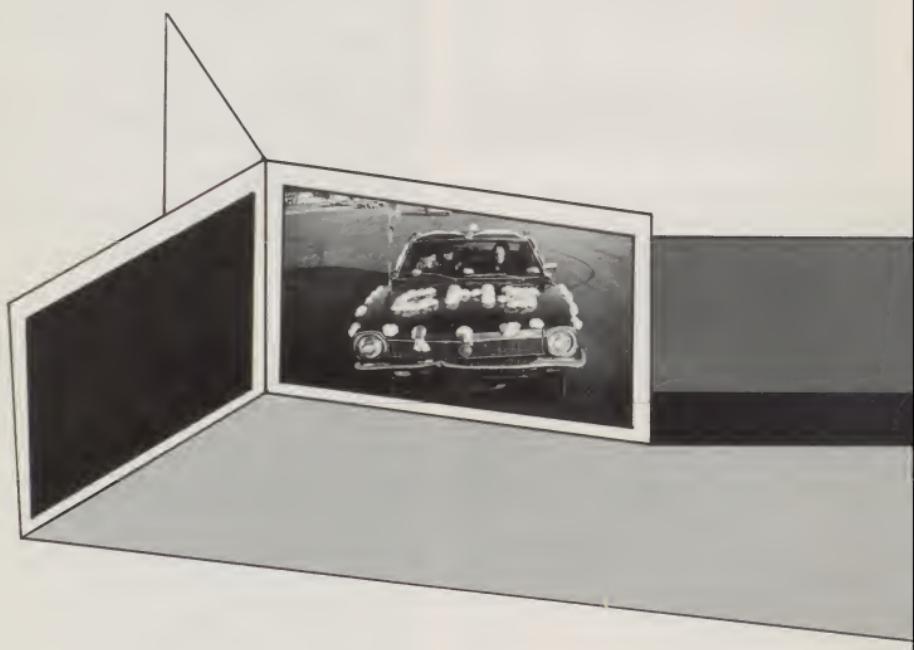

Three such "jack-O-lantern Picassos" were on hand at Wicker Park in Highland on a cool, crisp, October day to create "pun'kin" works of art. Instead of the traditional manner of pumpkin carving, these budding artists ventured into new dimensions of artistic endeavor.

"Scream in the Dark," a haunted house sponsored by a religious group in Highland, conjured up visions of a Poe epic or Transylvanian monsters and beasts. CHS'ers "shuttered" their way through the frightening fortress in their annual celebrations of "the monstrous side" of Halloween.

INSIDE FLAP: Frankenstein, the mad scientist and the blood stained corpse are on hand to chill CHS'ers at the haunted house in Highland. NEXT THREE: Taking turns carving jack-o'-lanterns are CHS'ers Butch Diehl, senior, and sophomores Lori Demps and Greg Widelski. Greg rests afterwards.

The
'Monster-ous'
Side
of Life?

Spectrum-ly speaking, the area of student activities was an intricate facet of the 1977 school year. Students participated in events sponsored by clubs and organizations during and after school hours.

The first major event of the year was Homecoming. Although a traditional activity, a new event was added to the celebration. "Anything Goes," a series of games which the Student Council sponsored, took advantage of the "craze" of having individuals participate in unusual sport competition.

Students tossed water filled balloons, and ran an obstacle course to capture events and points for their own classes.

Mardi Gras was back in 1977 with a new "handle." The activity, now entitled Fun Fair, held in March was sponsored by Student Council.

The game was sponsored by the Student Council.

Types of games played were: lunch time at the mills, sack races, obstacle course, balloon toss, string and spool and the orange game.

The game was played on October 13 and the senior team proved to be victorious.

Week proves Chocked full Of events

Spirit Week was designed to set everyone into the mood for fun. Working on floats, dressing for Spirit Week, and watching the parade were just a few of the activities for Homecoming 1976.

Class color day, sports day, overalls and hate day, mourning day and spirit day were all symbols of Spirit Week.

The festivities were held from October 11-15, as a prelude to the Calumet-Lake Central game.

Gridiron action was held on Thursday as the Senior-Sophomore team proved to be victorious in the annual Powder Puff game.

A somewhat early bonfire was held prior to the game. Normally held in the evening, this year's blaze was witnessed during the Thursday afternoon activities because students kept lighting the fire.

During the halftime festivities Debbie Stevenson was crowned 1976 Homecoming Queen.

As the game drew to a close CHS had lost with a score of 41-0.

After the game CHS'ers regained their spirit at the dance. During the dance senior Rick Gilmore was awarded the title of Mr. Football.

Excitement, as well as competition, filled the air as CHS'ers pitted themselves against the odds to win games and prizes at the annual Fun Fair. The activity, sponsored by Student Council, was held on Thursday, March 24.

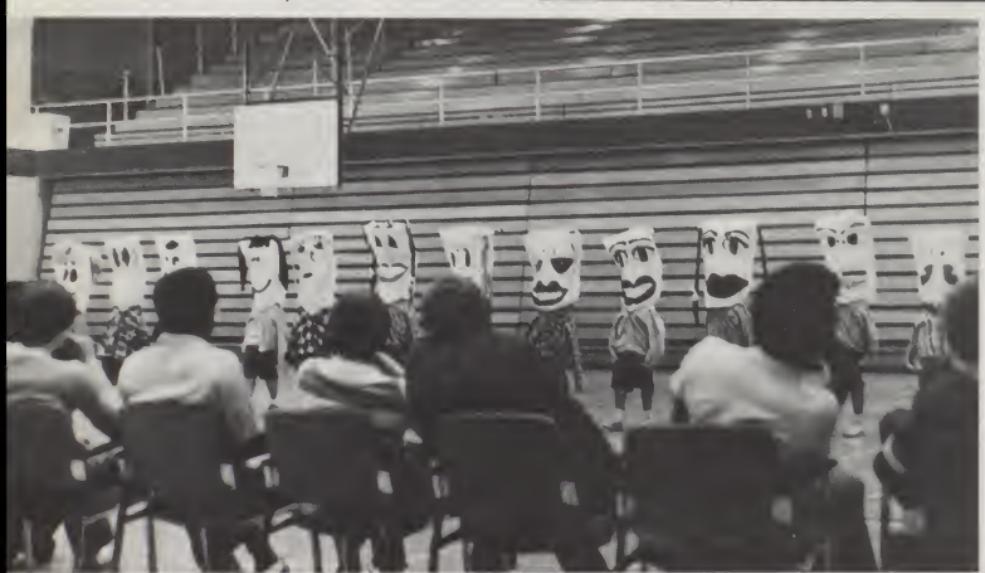

The event retitled Fun Fair, was in past years termed a Mardi Gras. Also the activity was held in the Mezzanine rather than the old gymnasium, which was in the process of being changed into an auditorium at the time of the activity. Funds raised were kept by the organizations.

CHS'ers rock Dance, cheer

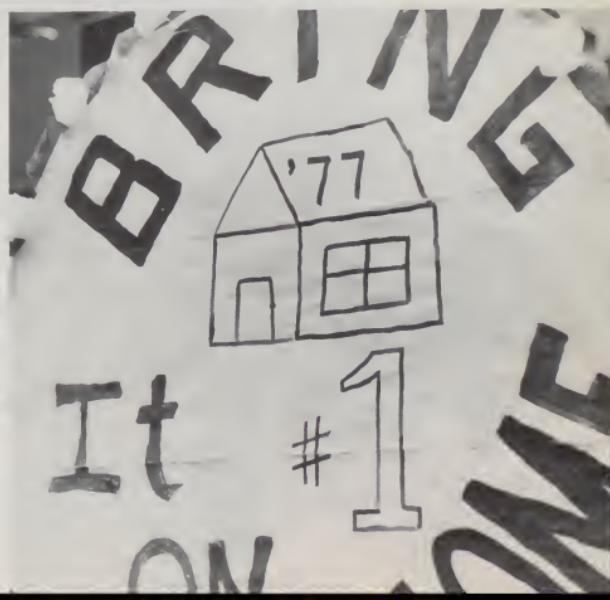

What is an assembly? A chance to get out of class? A time to be with a friend? The time to hear the familiar expression, "Twenty-five cents? Sure, I'll buy a ticket, anything to get out of English class!"

However, most assemblies provided information as well as entertainment. During the year assemblies were held to celebrate sports events during football, basketball, wrestling and volleyball seasons. Other assemblies included Folk dancers, Tip Off game, In and Out basketball game, Introduction of Homecoming Queen candidates and the Navy Rock Band to name a few.

Senior Prom. The two were chosen by the Junior Class voting from a list of all juniors attending the Prom.

This year's Prom was different from most of the rest, in that there was no Post-Prom.

Superstitions about Friday the 13th did not seem to bother the couples. Despite the date, no major mishaps occurred.

Faculty and administration, ever ready to improve on the academic "spectrum" at CHS, instituted a new course primarily for freshmen in 1977. The new offering, entitled "Careers," was instituted in an effort to strengthen students knowledge about opportunities and requirements for occupations.

The CHS curriculum continued to provide a wide range of interests and opportunities for students. Vocational, commercial and academic courses remained available to students in an effort to prepare them for future job or schooling endeavors.

One course, "Comparative Religions" was expanded in its second year. The class utilized speakers from outside of the school to broaden student knowledge of varied religions.

ACADEMICS

At CHS two plus two Still equals four

Readin', writin' and 'rithmatic the fundamentals which comprise the basics in the American educational institution. The old cliches, "nose to grindstone" and "shoulder to the wheel" apply to the academic lifestyle at Calumet High School. Requirements for the subject of English is three years, science one year, mathematics one year and physical education two years. Advanced courses are offered in all of these areas. Students may take additional courses along with the required ones.

Groups probe Social areas

In an effort to provide for a strengthening of student knowledge on social issues and analysis of historical events, the social science area at CHS has developed many course offering in history sociology and psychology.

Comparitive Religions, a course developed in the past two years, provides an opportunity for students to examine the philosophies of cultures and their modes of worship. Psychology and sociology are two social courses which are offered at CHS. Both of which delve into the subject of people.

CHS offers Sports, arts

Where can you learn about musical and artistic composition? Two areas with just such a purpose are offered at Calumet in the music and art department. These courses are geared to expand the imagination. Creativity is very much a part of fine arts curriculum.

"One-Two-Three-and One . . ." this familiar chorus may often be heard resounding through the halls of Calumet. It is the classes included in the physical education program. Daily excercises are coupled with instruction in skilled sports. The school requires a minimum of two years of participation in the program.

Students attend CHS Vocational programs

Fingers flying across a keyboard, needles weaving in and out of fabric and sparks springing from hot welding rods are all an integral part of the vocational curriculum at CHS.

The vocational curriculum can be separated into three distinct divisions. The Business Department is composed of typing, bookkeeping, business machines and shorthand. Home economics provides courses in nursing, foods and sewing. In the industrial arts area students gain instruction in woods, drafting, graphic arts, metals and welding.

The basic concept behind the vocational program at Calumet is the desire to equip students with skills and practical work experiences that will aid those students in the future years.

A look at the Vocational Side of CHS

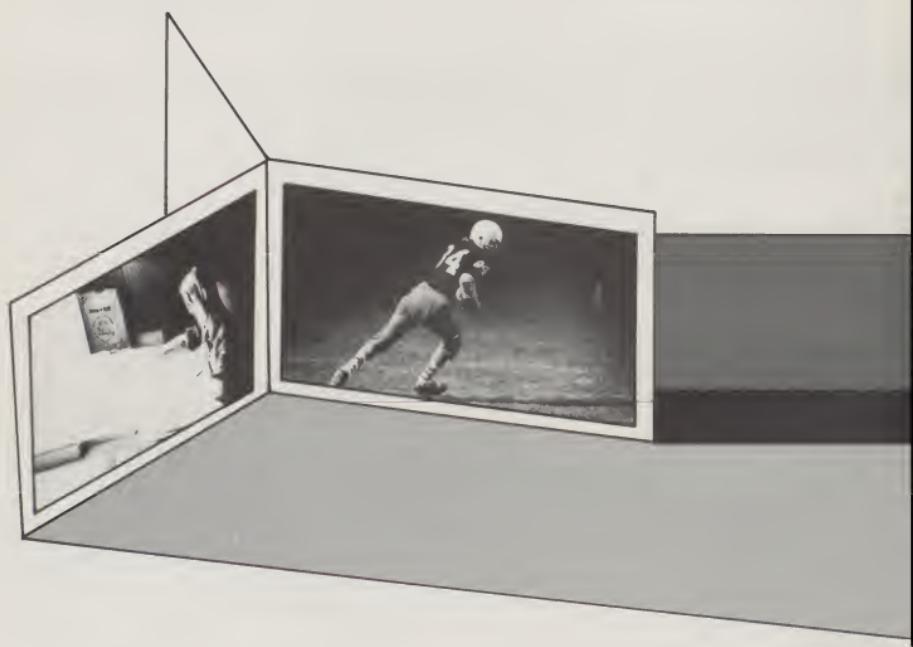

Vocational training at CHS extended to the Gary Career Center in 1977. The program was already in operation for several years, the training was available to approximately 50 students from Calumet High School during the year.

CHS'ers pursued study in carpentry, cosmetology, radio-television, drafting, welding, machine shop, auto mechanics, food service, data processing, etc. The students earning credits at the Career Center could transfer them to Calumet High School.

Students were also placed in jobs in which they worked a half day and went to school a half day.

The light from the spectrum was rather dim during 1976 football season. Not only did the team finish with a dismal 0-10 record, but a controversy arose over the head coaching position during mid season. The end result was the eventual resignation of Coach Dick Trcka, a five year veteran.

Enthusiasm picked up during basketball and wrestling seasons. Sectional hysteria, Hoosier style, was prevalent during the first of March. The Warriors, keeping their warpaint in tact, managed to make it down to the last game of sectional play where they were defeated by the Munster Mustangs.

Wrestlers competition also provided positive results for the CHS Warriors. Two grapplers made it to the semi-state finals representing CHS.

The girls basketball team surprised everyone, including the area experts, when they managed to come down to the wire in the second girls sectional competition. The Warriors were defeated in the final game by Lake Central.

SPORTS

Gridmen suffer Winless season

As he hustles onto the football field, fear rises within him. He hopes for a victory, but has his doubts. With the misfortunes throughout the season, the gridders suffered a somewhat pessimistic attitude. The change of leadership (Head Coach Richard Trcka was replaced by Coach Lou Lindinger during midseason) confused and upset the players considerably. They ended the season with a disappointing record of 0-10.

"Our boys are truly hard workers and dedicated players, but their lack of ability to work together as a team hurt them," explained Head Coach Lou Lindinger.

JV, Freshman Lack size

Throughout the 1976 season, the Junior Varsity and Freshman Football Team at CHS were decidedly smaller in size and less in number than their opponents.

"Though lacking in depth, the players were high spirited, hard hitting, and determined," explained Coach Charles Cole.

Ending the season with an 0-8 record proved disappointing to the Junior Varsity Team and their fans.

CHS Freshman Squad finished their season 3-1-3.

Tennis team Struggles

"Love." What does the term mean to most people? To the Calumet High School Netters, it means tension, hours of practice, disappointments, and an ever increasing hope that this season will prove more successful than the last.

Ending the season with a 2-10 record proved disappointing to CHS'ers. According to Head Coach Joseph Starkey, "The boys worked hard and applied themselves completely. Their main problem seemed to be lack of experience. Calumet has had only two years of competitive tennis. I feel that next year our boys will be able to stand up against the best."

CHS spikers Finish even

"Bump, set, spike" were expressions familiar to Calumet's Girls Volleyball Team during the 1976 season.

Posting a season record of 7-7 proved successful. "The girls had a tough schedule, requiring long hours of practice and hard work," indicated Head Coach Laura Baird.

The CHS spikers were continuously striving for improvement in their serving and receiving consistency. The Varsity Squad worked toward greater mobility on the court, and spent more time analyzing strategies. While the Junior Varsity squad was drilled on basic fundamentals.

Runners prove Successful

For the CHS harriers the 1976 season proved to be almost sheer perfection. The young men posted a very respectable record. They dashed into an 8-2 season.

The athletically inclined Cross Country runners placed a well deserved third at the Highland Invitational meet held at Cressmore Country Park.

Coach Richard Sopko indicated, "This year's Cross Country Team has been one of the more eager teams to go out and walk away with honors. During the season they proved their eagerness and enthusiasm in all of the meets."

Basketball History cited

Basketball has rapidly become one of the top spectator sports in America. Perhaps one of the fastest growing sports which is completely American in origin. Who would ever have guessed that a sport begun with simple rules and played with two peach baskets and a soccer ball would be so complex today. Modern ball would be a true example of expanded simplicity. Particularly at the high school level (JV).

At CHS basketball is played with determination, sportsmanship, and team effort. But despite these assets the JV squad had a disappointing season of 8-12.

'Darn good' CHS season

The famous quote of Coach Carl Traicoff "We've got a darn good team" happens almost every basketball season and 1976-77 was no exception.

The CHS Varsity squad was equipped with seven returning lettermen and five bright rookies. The experience they had going for them added to a fairly successful season of 10-8.

According to Coach Traicoff, this season like almost any other had its ups and downs, until sectional time that is. Even though lacking in height (as always) the Warriors "towered" the scoreboard playing good offense and defense. They passed Crown Point Bulldogs and Lake Central Indians with "no sweat."

Then came the championship sectional game and the Munster Mustangs, while ranked No. 2 in the state, beat the Warriors by only three points in regular season.

Slow season explodes into Exciting sectional play

The popularity of girls' sports in American high schools has grown tremendously in the past few years. Also with the increase in popularity, the girls have developed a greater proficiency in team sports.

Girls' sports, particularly basketball plays an important role in athletics at CHS.

According to Head Coach Robyn Payne, "This year's team was very young and inexperienced but showed a great deal of determination and potential for winning in the future."

Despite the determination and potential that was shown by the spirited team members, they walked away with a disappointing season tally of 5-11.

Coach Deborah Bates indicated, "This year's Junior Varsity Team was exceptionally young. By the end of the season poise and experience was gained. Thus, making future seasons look bright for a winning team." The CHS Junior Varsity Team finished their season 3-10.

JV grapplers Post 9 wins

Wrestling is a sport with an ever increasing popularity. This was especially so at CHS.

Wrestling, unlike basketball, football or any of the other sports, not only requires team work but individual effort is essential for a winning team. At each meet, the grappler's individual score in his match determines the outcome of the meet.

CHS wrestlers have proved an exceptional talent in their sport. The JV posted a season record of 9-1. The freshman team went undefeated throughout the 1977 season. They ended their season with a successful 6-0 record.

Brian Smith, and Keith Miller, both qualified for Semi-State competition.

Matmen 'take-down' Sectional tourney

Calumet's Wrestling Team posted a disappointing season with a tally of only 3-5-2.

Adding a shimmer of light to a somewhat dark season was the team capture of the first Calumet Tournament.

Then came sectional time. The matmen in 1977 made it three in a row for Calumet's Varsity squad. The grapplers that stepped onto the mats that Saturday morning showed no sign of fear. Once upon the mats, cheered on by the crowd, the team was transformed into aggressive competitors.

Bewley places First in dash

One of the highlights of the 1977 track season was senior Frank Bewley's first place in the 440-yard dash competition at the sectional. Frank also placed third in the event at the regional and qualified for State competition.

Another major plus for the cindermen was their defeat of Highland during the season. The Warriors were the first of all of the Lake Suburban Conference (LSC) teams to beat Highland since the LSC came into existence.

According to Coach Rick Sopko, the CHS team had an exceptionally good year.

Girls' Track is an intricate part of the athletic program at CHS. To be a member of Girls Track one must maintain a certain amount of dedication, desire and discipline.

According to Head Coach Robyn Payne, "The key to a successful team not only depends upon skill but on the attitude of the team. Attitude had a lot to do with the success of the season."

With the guidance of Head Coach Robyn Payne and Coach Laura Baird the squad ended their season successfully with a 7-5 record.

Batmen slump In '77 season

"Calumet's baseball team didn't do as well as possible, but had good intentions of playing their best," indicated Head Coach Dick Trcka. The team had a 4-12 season. Dan Carter was the No. 1 player and pitcher. The team effort was there, but that just did not prove enough.

"This year's JV baseball team ended their season the same as the varsity, not so good," according to Head Coach Ron Johnson. The coach believes that the potential is there for a better season next year. They ended their season with a 2-11 record.

Team 'swings' Consistently

Golf has long been a sport of dignified relaxation. Along with a little strength, coordination and determination.

The same principles are carried out with Calumet High School's golf team, and possibly more so as the CHS golf team ended their season with a 9-18 as a final outcome. Improvements were made during the season. They were "more consistent," according to sophomore Louie Mott.

Girls team Improves in '77

Although they posted a disappointing season, Calumet's Girls Tennis Team did produce one more win than last year's record. The team, only in its second year of existence, did manage to gain two squad members who qualified to compete in regional competition. CHS doubles combination Barb Banning and Lisa Zimnawoda, sophomores, represented Calumet in the competition. Carol McGee, junior, was honored for her tennis contributions at the annual Girls Sports Banquet held in the spring.

Clubs and organizations intensified the "spectrum" of wide interests at CHS. Older organizations sported new names sponsored new activities and won honors in regional, state and national competitions.

French and Spanish clubs combined in 1977 to form the new organization entitled "Sprech" club. The combination proved successful because it brought more students together and increased the membership allowing the group to participate in more activities.

The annual Winter semi-formal dance was sponsored this year by Health Occupations (H.O.). In past years the Girls Athletic Association sponsored the GAA Ball. The event was renamed the Christmas Ball when H.O. took over the annual function in 1976.

Several charitable events were sponsored by organizations during the year. Industrial Cooperative Education (I.C.E.) and C-Teens combined to collect can goods, toys and clothing for Christmas baskets to area needy families. C-Teens also visited area nursing homes during the holiday season.

Vocational organizations sent representatives and brought home honors in regional, state and national competition.

Office Education Association (OEA) was especially active in sponsoring events and selling items to raise funds for competition.

Journalism and music organizations also placed high in competition during the year. Calumet's Chieftain yearbook managed another first class national rating from the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for their 1976 publication. CHS band members took firsts in state contest held in Indianapolis.

ORGANIZATIONS

Honoraries add New members

Fifty Honor Society members were inducted into the CHS chapter during the spring. The society participated in the Fun Fair and sold candy during the lunch hours.

Calumet's chapter of Quill and Scroll added seven new members during the second semester. The international honorary for high school journalists presented its inductees (only juniors or seniors) with membership pins and cards.

Council has Successful School year

Student Council members were given the responsibility of sponsoring such annual events as activities during Homecoming, the Fun Fair and the Talent Show.

During Spirit Week the student body participated in "Dressing Up" to promote school spirit.

The Fun Fair was held on March 24 in the cafeteria. Clubs participated by setting up booths in order to add to their club treasures and provide entertainment for the student body.

The Talent Show was held on April 1, in the fieldhouse. Any student interested was given the opportunity to display his or her talents.

German Club Celebrates New arrival

Calumet High School German Club held a Christmas party early in December of the school year.

The nearly 25 members set up a booth at the Fun Fair. The exhibit featured dart throwing. Their participation in Fun Fair enabled the group to organize a Bowling Party.

Sprech Club members visited the museum of Science and Industry in Chicago on December 14. The trip was made in order to view the annual display of Christmas Trees representing countries around the world.

Midway through the year the club presented Mrs. Louise Vale with a party celebrating the upcoming arrival of her new baby.

CHS activities keep club Members on a hectic schedule

During the year Chemistry Club participated in many of the school's activities. The club entered a truck in the Homecoming Parade and the 66 members of the club arranged for Dr. J. Ornales from the Ross Clinic to be a guest speaker on the subject of allergies and food coloring. The Great Lakes Naval Base Hospital was the site for the clubs 1977 fieldtrip. The excursion was held on April 26.

Biology Club members traveled to the Science and Industry Museum for their annual field trip. In order to achieve this, the club set up a booth at the Fun Fair to increase their club treasury. They also participated in Homecoming along with other clubs. The club has increased its membership over the past year. The club discussed anything from bugs to birds, along with ideas to raise money for the club.

Funds plague News staff

Due to financial difficulties publication dates were rather sporadic during the year for the newspaper staff. The once bi-weekly publication was distributed only once every three weeks in an effort to hold costs down.

Staff members along with Co-Editors, Karen Williams, senior, and Jill Dayhoff, sophomore, helped to alleviate costs by selling patron ads at sectional time. The effort proved successful when the group managed to sell approximately $90 to business patrons.

New staff members for next year were selected in the spring along with new editors. Jill Dayhoff will again edit the publication during the 1977-78 school year.

Freezing temps disrupt Staff's deadline schedule

The bitter cold weather put a "chill" on Chieftain staff members' efforts to make deadlines during the year.

Days out of school and early dismissals kept staffers from spending the needed time after school during the winter months.

The only "warming" aspect of the winter was the report that sales for the 1977 book were up five percent from the previous year. Sales climbed for the publication when staff members sold 458 books.

Staff members resignations also proved a problem during the year. Vacancies were left unfilled during the second semester.

Newsfoto Yearbooks published the Chieftain in 1977. Mr. Derald Ailes, company representative, helped staff members a great deal with theme and theme development. The Chieftain continued into its third year participation with Spasoff Studio. Mr. James Spasoff helped staffers when deadline became especially tight.

During the spring, Kim Ortmann, sophomore, was chosen to edit the 1978 Chieftain. The sophomore planned to attend a summer workshop in Texas.

The Calumet News Bureau finished its third year in 1977.

The small five member staff spent their time producing stories for the Post-Tribune and the Hammond Times.

Noreen Phelps, senior, served as bureau chief during the year and also typed all articles for release.

"There's no business like show biz." Calumet Players, school drama club, spent a great deal of time after school rehearsing for the play, "Time Machine" which they presented to the elementary schools during the last week in January.

The auditorium, scheduled for completion in the fall, will be used by the organization for productions next year.

Club members participate In eleventh annual banquet

Office Education Association went through all the necessary procedures to earn their national trip to compete in Houston, Texas. The "procedures" included the selling of coloring books and candy. On March 16, the club held their annual Spaghetti Dinner, and in October they sponsored a movie at the Ridge Cinema I & II entitled "Romeo and Juliet". The group also held an assembly to feature the Ethnic Folk Dancers from Lew Wallace High School.

DECA students participated in this year's annual employer-employee banquet. Their goals during the year were to develop a respect for education in marketing and distribution which contributes to vocational competence, and to promote understanding and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in our free, competitive enterprise system. The students were found working at Ace Hardware, Zayre, or many other places. They worked half a day and went to school the other half.

H.O. holds X-mas dance

One of the highlights of the year was the Christmas Ball sponsored by Health Occupations.

The holiday event was entitled "Candlelight Reflections."

Other activities included all H.O. officers traveling to Indianapolis to choose state officers, the selling of Homecoming mums, candy canes, and popcorn balls. The club also sponsored the Navy Rock Band.

This year's Industrial Cooperation Education (I.C.E.) traveled on February 19 to the regional competition held in Michigan City. Bret Barnett and Gerry Zagone, both seniors, took first place honors at the contest. This qualified the seniors for the State Contest held in Indianapolis on March 19.

Throughout the year C-Teens maintained a busy schedule. For the Fun Fair the group sponsored a dart game and members dressed as clowns. Members sold candy, and prepared Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets during the holidays for the needy.

Members of Human Relations visited the Sheubert Theatre on January 12, to see the live performance of "The Wiz." They also participated in the Fun Fair along with many other things.

Squad cheers For victory

The crowd begins to form. Both sides are placing their bids for victory. Before the mass congregation, assembled to view their team, is the Varsity Cheerleaders.

Cheerleaders must possess dedication in order to provoke "that" Warrior enthusiasm. Sometimes the student body may unintentionally overlook the overall effort exerted by the Varsity Cheerleaders.

The girls spent many hours in practices which paid off for them when they won a spirit trophy for their participation at Valparaiso University during a summer workshop.

Calumet High School's Warriorette squad scheduled a list of events which included a march to celebrate the Yuletide during the Christmas season in the Village shopping area. The Warriorettes participated in a parade which celebrated the opening of the Little League season.

The squad also participated in the Fun Fair with a baseball toss booth. Gym tote bags and buttons were sold to promote Warrior enthusiasm and spirit. The group held a Spring Concert assembly in May.

Band members Hold concert

The Calumet High School Band held two major Concerts during the school year. They gave a Christmas Concert in December and one in April.

The group held their annual Tag Day in October, proceeds were used for new equipment for the department.

Helping in raising proceeds were the CHS Band Boosters which consists of parents of band members.

The band members also performed at all of the Calumet Warriors Football and Basketball home games.

The group traveled to Indianapolis during the winter to compete in state contests.

CHS singers Perform In concert

Lack of participation caused Calumet High School's music division of Acapella and Chorus to combine during the year and give a Christmas Concert on December 15.

The group performed at a meeting of the Parents Teachers Council (PTC). The choral groups received assistance from the Band and presented renditions of "White Christmas" and "Little Drummer Boy."

Mr. Robert Velasco and Mr. Cruz Velasco served once again as directors of the two choral groups.

Clubs Promote Cultural study And spirit

This year's Pep Club was greatly responsible for the unusual amount of enthusiasm generated during I.S.H.A.A. Sectional Basketball season. The group sponsored assemblies which were held in honor of the Warrior Basketball team. The club consisted of 93 members, making it one of the largest clubs at CHS.

Bible Rap members became heavily engrossed in relevant topics of today. The group discussed teenage problems, various religious beliefs, and changing social standards. The group has approximately 30 members, representing various religious affiliations. Discussions included traditions, customs, and philosophies throughout the world.

Clubs honor Senior members

During Senior Awards Day many clubs honored their members with certificates, plaques and trophies.

Ceremonies were held in the Fieldhouse on May 20. Clubs participating included Health Occupations, ICE, Office Education Association, Student Council, Cheerleading, C-Teens, Band, Yearbook and News Bureau.

Varsity Club spent an inactive 1976-77 school year. The organization lost its sponsor from last year and, thus, was unable to participate in any activities or fund raising functions.

Sometimes faces may become lost in a crowd, but at CHS individuals comprise the entire human aspect of the "spectrum".

Students filed into the old gymnasium in the Fall as a mass of humanity there to participate in an annual event. But somehow they came out as individuals when the camera captured their images for the 1977 yearbook. Although the poses in this section are very standardized—one face after another—each person is an individual with his own contribution to the CHS "spectrum".

Senior portraits were taken during the summer months by Spasoff Studios. The newly promoted class members often feel that this is their first major function as seniors. The studio was also present at CHS in the Fall to photograph faculty members and administrative and office personnel.

FACES

Lake Ridge Plants '76 Time capsule

Everything from pencils to band-aids circulate from within the office. It is not uncommon to see a tardy student enter the office with remorse and exit somewhat relieved with an excused pass in his hand. Phone calls and messages to both students and faculty go through the office.

Disciplinary actions also stem from the office. Those unexcused tardies, unknown whereabouts of the students, are common areas which discipline is a major requirement.

Career ends For Traicoff

After 32 years of service to the Lake Ridge School system, Mr. Chris Traicoff retired in 1977.

Along with teaching government and economics and serving as athletic director, Mr. Traicoff was also a 30 year coaching veteran at CHS.

The athletic director coached basketball, track and cross country. Calumet's only state championship team was produced during his tenure as coach in 1965, when his cross country squad brought home the state title.

One of the major changes in freshman life in 1977 was the addition of a new course during the second semester entitled "Career Education." The course was designed to acquaint the student with career area that he might wish to prepare for while in high school.

Class officers were Robert Henry, president; Dana Phipps, vice-president; Laurie Kinkle, secretary and Kathy Krejic, treasurer.

The spectrum was rather icy for CHS advertising in 1977. Local businesses and industry suffered from the coldest winter in recorded history. Shortages in fuel either shut down firms or required them to cut back on work schedules or services.

Schools and businesses were closed at various times during the cold snaps throughout the midwest. Local steel mills, the backbone of Northern Indiana's economy, found it necessary to lay off workers during winter months.

However the business community was again very supportive of school publications in 1977. Advertising sales for yearbook and newspaper were constant, despite winter economic problems for businesses.

High School is a waste of time . . .

. . . unless you find a job that turns you on and makes good use of your education. Inland Steel wants only people who want to use everything they've learned in high school--and strongly desire to grow personally and in their chosen field.

Inland's future growth depends on the creativity and productivity of its people. If you want a really challenging opportunity to contribute--with the rewards and responsibilities that go with it--Inland wants to talk to you.

We need action-seeking graduates for opportunities in clerical . . . production . . . technical . . . and craft apprenticeship areas.

Think it over. If you have high aspirations and a good high school record, take time to find out about a career with us.

Worst winter In history

The alarm clock rings, the light goes on and it is time to get up for school. You turn on the radio and a warm friendly voice exclaims, "Forecast for today, snow beginning in early morning and continuing through the night. Remember to bundle up in layers of warm sweaters, and keep face and other extremities protected from the weather hazards. Frostbite is highly probable due to high wind chill factors." This type of unwelcome news greeting students first thing in the morning normally would shock, but living in the Northwest area of Indiana during the winter of 1976-77 CHS students learned to tolerate it.

How will the spectrum alter following graduation? Prior to Commencement, the CHS student's spectrum is mainly comprised of activities, sports and academics. The school environment is an exceptionally small world compared to the choices and responsibilities after graduation. The spectrum then bends and alters its shape and scope.

The most intricate aspect of the spectrum will then include marriage, home and family. In the future they will continue to remain the most important facet of almost every individual's life.

The spectrum's range will also expand to encompass employment and education, and the individual will become more involved with the wider concerns of economy and government.

Thus, the spectrum never really comes to a conclusion, but merely disperses its energy to envelop other areas of interest and concern.
